

Fishing Trip

Let us take you along on a little trip. Regard it as a regular fishing trip. Like men do with their buddies when they want to get away from their family and bring beers, snacks and the right loot. But no, this fishing trip will be ONE BIG METAPHOR.

THE INTERNET is the big sea we'll be on. the little house near the sea is where we sleep, but the sea is where we spend most of our time. you can do all the rest on the sea. eat, think, have fun, explore, loose time.

From the sea we come at smaller lakes and pools. They are the websites and the blogs. The little pool next to the Rietveld-website-pool is the Designblog, a pool we would have never known without the help of Henk Groenendijk.

It's really easy to get lost at the pool, even though it's small compared to the big sea. You can find so many tags that at any time you find yourself on the big wide Internet again.
